Human Rights Day Discussion 2021 Report

Date: 10th December 2021

Event: Human Rights Day Online Discussion

Organized by: NSS and Political Science Department, [College Name]

Platform: [Google Meet]

Time: 11:00 AM – 1:00 PM

Purpose:

The online discussion on Human Rights Day aimed to raise awareness about the significance of human rights, discuss contemporary human rights challenges, and encourage students to be more engaged in promoting human rights globally and locally. The event focused on understanding the role of human rights in maintaining justice, dignity, and equality in society.

Event Summary

On 10th December 2021, in observance of Human Rights Day, an online discussion was organized by the NSS and Political Science Department. The event was conducted through the online platform [Zoom/Google Meet], with an enthusiastic participation of students, faculty, and community members.

- The event began at 11:00 AM, and the session was introduced by Dr Sapna Barua, who briefed the participants about the history of Human Rights Day and the importance of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), adopted by the UN.

The discussion was initiated by Prof Sadhna Thakur, who gave a comprehensive overview of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR), explaining its historical context, importance, and its global impact. The speaker discussed the 30 Articles of UDHR, highlighting essential human rights like freedom of speech, right to education, freedom from discrimination, and right to life.

Sri Rajeev Shankar Sinha followed with a focused discussion on contemporary human rights issues. They highlighted challenges such as gender inequality, discrimination based on race and caste, the refugee crisis, climate change, and the rise of authoritarianism. The speaker emphasized the critical need for global cooperation and national policy reforms to address these pressing issues and to ensure that human rights are upheld in every part of the world.

A key part of the session was the Q&A round, where students participated actively, asking insightful questions related to the rights of marginalized groups, the role of social media in promoting human rights awareness, and the relationship between human rights and economic development.

Key Highlights:

- Historical and Global Context of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.
- Focus on contemporary human rights issues such as gender equality, discrimination, and the refugee crisis.
- Active student participation in the Q&A session.
- Awareness of the role of youth in defending and promoting human rights.

The discussion concluded with a call to action, urging students to become advocates for human rights in their communities and to participate in future initiatives related to human rights education.

Conclusion:

The Human Rights Day discussion was an impactful and educational event that highlighted the importance of human rights and inspired students to actively engage in social and political actions that promote equality, justice, and freedom for all. Despite being an online event, the session was highly engaging and provided a platform for
