Date: December 10, 2019

Department: Department of Political Science and National Service Scheme (NSS)

Topic: Introduction to Human Rights

Key Speakers:

- Prof. Sadhana Thakur (Department of Political Science)
- Dr. Sapna Barua (Department of Political Science)

Time: 11:00 AM – 1:00 PM

Objective of the Program:

The primary objective of this program was to acquaint students and NSS volunteers with various aspects of human rights and discuss their significance in detail. The event aimed to emphasize that human rights are not just legal entitlements but are essential for safeguarding the dignity, freedom, and equality of every individual.

Program Summary:

On December 10, 2019, a lecture on the topic "Introduction to Human Rights" was organized jointly by the Department of Political Science and the National Service Scheme (NSS). The program began with an inaugural address by NSS Program Officer Dr. Geeta Kumari, who highlighted the contemporary relevance of human rights.

Key Points from the Speakers:

Prof. Sadhana Thakur:

Prof. Thakur elaborated on the definition, historical evolution, and global perspectives of human rights. She explained that human rights are inherent to every individual from birth and emphasized the need to protect them under all circumstances.

Dr. Sapna Barua:

Dr. Barua discussed the international dimensions of human rights, citing the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR) by the United Nations. She also highlighted how the Indian Constitution ensures fundamental rights for its citizens and the judiciary's role in safeguarding them.

Role of NSS Volunteers:

- NSS volunteers actively participated in the organization and execution of the program.
 - Towards the end of the session, the volunteers presented a short skit on "Human Rights Awareness," showcasing violations of human rights in society and suggesting ways to address them.
 - An exhibition of posters themed "Protecting Human Rights: Our Duty" was also organized by the NSS team.

Key Highlights of the Discussion:

- Definition and importance of human rights.
 - Historical, international, and national perspectives on human rights.
 - Fundamental rights enshrined in the Indian Constitution and their legal safeguards.
 - The role of youth in protecting human rights.

Participation and Interaction:

The students and NSS volunteers actively participated in the discussions, posed insightful questions, and shared their thoughts on various human rights issues. They also received valuable guidance from the speakers.

Conclusion of the Program:

The program concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. Sapna Barua, who appreciated the students' and NSS volunteers' enthusiasm for human rights awareness and encouraged them to play an active role in their protection.

Outcomes of the Program:

- The participants gained in-depth knowledge about the significance of human rights and their implementation.
- The program inspired students and NSS volunteers to contribute to raising awareness and protecting human rights in society.
