Report on Community Outreach Activity

Theme: Distributing Self-Made Masks Among Vegetable & Fruit Vendors

Date: June 8, 2020

Organized by: Department of Zoology, Sri Arvind Mahila College, Patna

Venue: Local Market Areas

Objectives

- Promote Health Safety: Encourage the use of masks among vegetable and fruit vendors to mitigate the spread of COVID-19.
- Community Support: Extend support to frontline vendors who are at a higher risk of exposure due to continuous interaction with the public.
- Raise Awareness: Educate vendors about the importance of hygiene and safety measures during the pandemic.

Highlights

- Mask Distribution: The Department of Zoology created and distributed self-made reusable masks to vegetable and fruit vendors in the local market areas.
- Awareness Campaign: Faculty members and student volunteers explained the significance of wearing masks, maintaining physical distance, and hand hygiene.
- Community Engagement: Vendors expressed their gratitude for the initiative, acknowledging the importance of such outreach activities in ensuring their safety.
- Participation: Faculty members and students actively participated, showcasing the spirit of service and solidarity during the challenging times of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Conclusion

The mask distribution initiative by the Department of Zoology successfully addressed the need for protective measures among local vendors, who are critical to the supply chain during the pandemic. The activity emphasized the college's commitment to community welfare and public health. The event concluded with a message of resilience and hope, reinforcing the need for collective efforts in overcoming the challenges of COVID-19.
