

Sri Arvind Mahila College, Patna
Accredited by NAAC with B+ Grade
(A Constituent Unit of Patliputra University, Patna)

B.A. (Three Years Programme) in Political Science

B.A. Part I Political Science

Course Outcomes

1. Comprehensive Understanding of Political Theories:
  - Objective: To provide students with an in-depth understanding of foundational political theories, ideologies, and philosophies.
  - Learning Outcome:
    - Students will develop a strong grasp of key political concepts like liberty, justice, democracy, equality, sovereignty, and power.
    - They will critically evaluate classical and modern political thoughts and apply these concepts in analyzing contemporary political issues.
    - Students will be able to assess how political philosophies have shaped historical and current political systems.
2. Comparative Analysis of Political Systems:
  - Objective: To equip students with the ability to compare different political systems, constitutions, and governance structures worldwide.
  - Learning Outcome:
    - Students will gain knowledge of various political institutions, processes, and behaviors in different countries, fostering a global perspective on governance.
    - They will learn to critically analyze the strengths and weaknesses of different political systems, helping them understand the diversity in political practices globally.
    - By applying comparative analysis, students will identify commonalities and differences in political processes and institutions across nations, aiding in better contextual understanding.

B.A. Part II Political Science

Course Outcomes

3. In-depth Knowledge of Indian Government and Politics:
  - Objective: To provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the Indian political system, including its constitutional framework and governance mechanisms.
  - Learning Outcome:
    - Students will gain detailed knowledge of the Indian Constitution, political institutions, electoral processes, and the functioning of political parties in India.
    - They will understand the federal structure, center-state relations, and various dimensions of governance and democracy in India, including the challenges and reforms in Indian politics.

- Students will be able to critically assess the role of key political actors, such as the legislature, executive, judiciary**, and political parties, in shaping India's political landscape.

4. Understanding of International Politics and Relations:

- Objective: To equip students with the theoretical and practical knowledge of international politics and global relations.

- Learning Outcome:

- Students will develop an understanding of international relations theories, foreign policies, and global political trends.

- They will explore the role of international organizations, diplomacy, global conflicts, and international economic relations in shaping world politics.

- Students will be able to analyze the impact of globalization, geopolitical strategies, and global governance on international relations, and understand how nations navigate through issues of conflict, cooperation, and diplomacy on the world stage.

BA Part III Political Science

Course Outcomes

5. Mastery of Public Administration Concepts:

- Objective: To provide students with a thorough understanding of public administration and its role in governance.

- Learning Outcome:

- Students will gain an in-depth knowledge of the principles, evolution, and functioning of public administration in both theory and practice.

- They will be able to analyze public policies, decision-making processes, and the role of bureaucracy in governance.

- Students will study administrative reforms and evaluate their impact on improving governance, accountability, and public service delivery.

6. Familiarity with Political Ideologies:

- Objective: To enhance students' understanding of major political ideologies and how they influence global politics.

- Learning Outcome:

- Students will develop insights into political ideologies such as liberalism, socialism, conservatism, Marxism, and nationalism.

- They will be able to critically analyze how these ideologies shape political systems, policies, and governance models around the world.

- Students will apply their understanding of these ideologies to assess their historical relevance and contemporary influence on political institutions and movements.

7. Expertise in Political Sociology:

- Objective: To equip students with a deep understanding of the relationship between society and politics.

- Learning Outcome:

- Students will study the interrelationship between social structures and political behavior, focusing on concepts like political culture, political participation, and social stratification.

- They will explore how social factors such as caste, religion, ethnicity, and gender influence political participation and policy-making.

- By analyzing political socialization, students will understand how social and political institutions shape individual and group political behavior.

8. Historical Knowledge of National Movements and Constitutional Development:

- Objective: To provide students with a solid historical foundation in the national movements and constitutional developments of India.

- Learning Outcome:

- Students will gain knowledge of the Indian freedom struggle and the key events, movements, and leaders that contributed to the fight for independence.

- They will explore the constitutional development during the colonial period and the challenges faced in post-colonial constitution-making.

- Students will be able to critically assess the evolution of India's constitutional framework and understand its importance in shaping modern Indian governance and democracy.

*****